The parents and spectators shall uphold the honor and dignity of the game. In all contact with players, coaches, officials and anyone else involved with the leagues shall strive to set an example of the highest ethical and moral conduct.

The parents and spectators shall respect and support contest officials and coaches. They shall not indulge in conduct which would interfere with the players, coaches, officials or anyone else connected with the contest. There will be zero tolerance for any spectator that yells negatively at a player, coach, or official. Any spectator that takes part in this behavior will be asked to leave the field area.

And — if any parent/spectator enters onto the playing field, or in any way interferes with the game, the players, or anyone affiliated with the league, including the officials, that individual, and their related player, will be asked to leave the school grounds and field area. This is not to include an injury situation, unless an abusive or unsportsmanlike behavior initiates or is involved. The coaches will support and assist in the enforcement of this rule.

After contests, all players and spectators are expected to clean up any and all items brought to the fields.
